

RCTB 2022 General Season Messages

Joy

Having a real Christmas tree in your home brings joy to everyone who sees it -- and smells it.

- When asked to choose how they feel when they smell a real Christmas tree, respondents to a nationwide survey earlier this year chose “Joyful” 42% of time -- more than any other emotion.¹
- In the same survey, nearly all (81%) agreed that “real Christmas trees smell like Christmas” itself.¹
- 48% of those who bought a real tree last year said their top reason for doing so is they love the scent.¹
- When asked to rank various scents associated with Christmas, respondents said a real Christmas tree is their favorite smell of the season (56%) -- putting it ahead of cookies (50%), hot cocoa (45%), or gingerbread (43%).¹

Journey

The journey makes the joy -- and its worth it.

- It’s about the experience
 - ✓ In a previous nationwide survey, 76% of respondents said they think of real Christmas trees as an experience, not just a product.²
 - ✓ That experience comes from the entire journey: shopping for the tree, getting it in or on the car, setting it up, decorating it, watering it, and even recycling it when you’re done.
 - ✓ Experiences create joy in the moment, traditions over the years, and memories that last a lifetime.
- Even when the economy is tight
 - ✓ Consumers are expecting to pay more for a real Christmas tree this year compared to last year.¹
 - ✓ But real Christmas tree buyers say they are willing to pay more this year if necessary to get one.
 - 85% of those surveyed agreed with the statement, “The price of a real Christmas tree is worth it.”¹
 - In fact, 79% agreed, “If the cost of a real Christmas tree goes up this year in light of the rising costs of many consumer goods, I will still buy a real Christmas tree.”¹
 - 73% went further, agreeing, “If my personal holiday budget is tight this year, I will prioritize buying a real Christmas tree.”¹
- Converts agree
 - ✓ 75% of those who previously bought an artificial tree, but tried a real one instead in 2021, say they wish they had started buying real sooner.¹
- Each real tree’s own journey takes seven to 12 years because they’re grown -- not manufactured.
 - ✓ Each tree is unique. Part of the joy of each Christmas is finding your special tree and knowing that it will be perfect -- and perfectly different -- every time.
 - What makes a perfect tree for one person may be different for another person. The 2022 survey showed that people consider a lot of factors: height, fullness, overall shape, scent, color, species, width, even trunk diameter!¹
 - ✓ Like other crops, real Christmas trees are grown to be harvested, just like pumpkins for Halloween or salad ingredients for dinner. There’s no harm in taking them home.
 - ✓ Real Christmas trees can return to the earth as naturally as they came from it.

- They are biodegradable, so they can be recycled or reused for mulch.
- For every real Christmas tree farmers harvest, they plant at least one new tree.
